The 100% cold pressed HEMP SEED OIL in Bio quality is naturally without the THC content.

The oil is unique in its composition, characterized by its aroma, distinctive green colour and a delicate nutty flavor. The unique relationship between the fatty acids Omega 3 and Omega 6 corresponds to the natural needs of the human organism. These include healthy fats, which are indispensable for human health. Hemp oil is also rich in vitamins, minerals, vegetable dyes and phytosterols. Many of these substances are necessary for human health, the body is unable „to make” them and is entirely dependent on their provision in food. Hemp oil brings these substances in a natural, easily digestible form. The oil is suitable food for both children and adults, and it can be used on a long-term basis without restrictions. Hemp oil is ideal for cold dishes: salads, dressings, the spreads, etc. It can be used to flavor dishes just before consumption.

Application: one or two tablespoons a day. After opening the oil container, it should be stored in a dark and cool place.
